Saint Tropez

For millennia, marble has been an object of desire in architecture, either for its timeless aesthetics or for the diversity of patterns. With a careful selection of rocks from deposits in India, Turkey and Italy, Roca expands its collection of exotic marbles. Handled by the brand, deliberate extraction gives way to environmental responsibility. With a high investment in technology, porcelain tiles reach formats that reach 2.5m and faithfully reproduce marbles, with all the nuances of color, veins and textures, in addition to a superior performance when compared to natural stone. A proposal that combines beauty, technology and sustainability.
